In addition to the available general economic development resources, RCEDC contracts with the City of Racine to manage its brownfield program and to administer the City’s financing programs.

WISCONSIN WOMENS BUSINESS INITIATIVE CORPORATION:
WWBIC has provided quality business and financial education, coupled with access to fair capital and financial products, for more than 25 years to men and women. WWBIC’s impact is seen through the many entrepreneurs, business owners and individual whom they assist. WWBIC manages the City’s Microenterprise Assistance Program and small business development revolving loan fund.

DOWNTOWN RACINE CORPORATION:
For thirty-five years, the Downtown Racine Corporation (DRC) has worked fervently to ensure that Downtown is one of the Midwest’s most unique and vibrant lakefront communities. We serve as the voice of downtown, facilitating and coordinating efforts that support existing businesses and attract new businesses, residents and tourists.

RACINE AREA MANUFACTURERS AND COMMERCE:
RAMAC is Racine’s Business Champion serving as a voice representing the common interests of every organization in Racine - small and large, industrial and retail, for profit and nonprofit. In support of its broad and diverse membership base, RAMAC offers a variety of pro-business and pro-community programs and initiatives. These programs aim to improve the business climate and vitality of the greater Racine area.

GATEWAY TECHNICAL COLLEGE’S BUSINESS RESOURCE CENTER:
If you are looking to grow your business or are a new and emerging entrepreneur, Gateway has the resources you need to tackle tough questions. They can help you find focus when creating a sustainable plan for your business. If you need a workspace, they can assist you with their co-working space at Launch Box in Downtown Racine. If you would like to turn your idea into reality, they can work with you on the design process or prototyping your product in their Industrial Design FabLab.

THE SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER AT UW-PARKSIDE:
The Small Business Development Center at UW-Parkside annually assists more than 300 small business owners and entrepreneurs in Southeast Wisconsin. Whether you are at the discovery level of becoming an entrepreneur, someone researching ideas to develop into a business or if you’re looking for methods to grow an existing business, they can assist you.
The Small Business Development Revolving Loan Fund is designed to help make economically feasible projects that will create or retain jobs in the City of Racine. Loan terms and conditions are tailored to the needs of each individual project, and can be subordinate to primary lenders. As funds are repaid, they are reinvested back into the fund to be lent out again, making it a “revolving loan fund,” or RLF.

The RLF is funded through federal Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds and is subject to certain requirements. The City of Racine and our partnering Small Business Development Organizations work together to make these requirements as easy as possible for you to meet. To see if the RLF is the right source of capital for your needs, and to get a loan:

Contact a partnering Small Business Development Organization (SBDO) like the Racine County Economic Development Corporation or the Wisconsin Women’s Business Initiative Corporation. They may also have other programs that complement the RLF or are better suited to your needs.

The SBDO will submit a pre-application to the City for review on your behalf.

The City and SBDO will work together to identify any federal compliance issues triggered by the project, and begin an environmental review. It is important to note that no work on the project can begin prior to the environmental review being completed due to CDBG rules.

City staff will meet with the applicant on-site to discuss the project, particularly federal CDBG requirements.

The SBDO will work with you on completing a full application for review by their loan review committee, and submit their recommendation to the City for final approval.

The executed loan agreement will contain General Conditions that must be completed by your team and may include some Special Conditions unique to your project that must be completed prior to release of any CDBG funding from the Department.

Purchase equipment, fixtures, real estate, or inventory you need for the project (note: working capital and loan guarantees are also eligible) and submit proper paperwork to draw loan funds.

Submit evidence that jobs have been created or retained to the City of Racine, and begin repaying the loan so other businesses can take advantage of the program.

CAPITAL CATALYST PROGRAM

The Capital Catalyst Program is a new initiative launched in partnership with the City of Racine, Racine County Economic Development Corporation, and the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) that provides low-interest loans and grant funding to support innovative business ventures in the City of Racine with high growth potential.

Racine’s legacy companies such as Horlick Malted Milk, SC Johnson, J.I. Case Company and others started with an idea and the drive to take that idea and make a business out of it. Today, Racine continues to draw dynamic innovators including DeltaHawk Engine, Vista Dental and Butter Buds, just to name a few. We realize, however, that innovation requires capital to convert ideas into sales. The City’s leadership wants to continue these patterns, and this new loan program intends to foster high growth companies in Racine.

Mayor John Dickert.

Industry sectors targeted for the Capital Catalyst Program include, but are not limited to, advanced manufacturing, agriculture or food processing, information systems or software, medical devices and biosciences and renewable/green energy. Funds may not be used for investments in real estate, direct consumer retail or hospitality businesses (including restaurants).

Funds made available through this program are intended to meet the following objectives:

1. To assist with the creation of innovation based investment companies who are in the early stages of development or the start-up phase

2. To encourage the creation and retention of permanent jobs which provide a wage appropriate to the skills and experience of the local workforce

3. To encourage the leveraging of private investment into the City of Racine and the State of Wisconsin in the form of mixed asset investment particularly in the area of innovation technology

4. To encourage the development and use of modern technology and create a safe work environment

Key Contact: Rachana Kothari at RCEDC 262-898-7438.

INDUSTRIAL REVENUE BONDS:

The City of Racine’s façade grant program provides financial assistance to commercial property owners interested in renovating the major street faces of their buildings. TAX CREDIT PARTNERSHIPS:

New Market Tax Credit (NMTC):
Congress created the New Markets Tax Credits (NMTC) program to incentivize investments that create jobs and provide services in economically disadvantaged areas. NMTCs can subsidize approximately 20% of a project’s capital needs, usually in the form of low-interest, forgivable debt. The program is primarily used to fund commercial, industrial, community facility, and mixed-real estate projects, as well as operating businesses located in qualifying Census tracts. The Department of City Development can put you in contact with Community Development Financial Institutions to help Racine projects access NMTC funding.

Federal Historic 20% Tax Credit
A 20% income tax credit is available for the rehabilitation of historic, income-producing buildings that are determined by the Secretary of the Interior, through the National Park Service, to be “certified historic structures.”

State Historic 20% Tax Credit

Rootworks is our plan to foster the renewal of Racine’s historic industrial district with the rebirth of the Root River Corridor as the heart of the City and a hub for a new era of economic growth. The RootWorks strategy responds not only to the needs and opportunities within the Corridor, but also the economic needs of the entire community. The plan and vision were developed out of public, private, and non-profit partnerships, with extensive neighborhood input. The effort was guided by a dedication to the following goals: creating a sense of place, stimulation economic growth, allowing public access and interaction and improving water quality.

The Plan has given rise to Racine’s largest redevelopment project to date, the $65 million Machinery Row project. This project will convert warehouses along the RootRiver into a dynamic mixed-use live, work, play environment. Check out the Rootworks Plan to learn how your business can build upon the vision set out in this historic initiative.
BEACON: UPTOWN NEIGHBORHOOD

Uptown serves as the historic center of Racine’s industrial legacy, past and present. This is manifested in a variety of physical spaces – historic and modern, vacant and occupied – that provide opportunities to engage current companies and employees while providing low cost options for emerging businesses. In addition to numerous small businesses and artist studios, the neighborhood is home to many of the area’s leading employers and serves as the headquarters of several leading corporations in consumer products, manufacturing and machining, including S.C. Johnson, Modine, and Twin Disc.

The goal of the Uptown Strategic Development Plan is to identify and implement a clear set of catalytic projects and strategies to help accelerate revitalization of the Broader Uptown area. The planning process developed a clear three-pronged vision for Uptown Racine:

- Global, Corporate, & Historic: A triple bottom line employment center and global headquarters district.
- Diverse, Vibrant Neighborhood: A vibrant destination commercial and living district serving neighborhoods, area employees and the region.
- Eclectic, entrepreneurial, Arts/creative nexus: A regional urban entrepreneurial and creative hub.

Uptown’s strategic location in the heart of the Racine metro area and proximity to two major American cities represents access to more than 170,000 people within a twenty minute drive and 310,000 people within thirty minutes. For neighborhood serving businesses, opportunity knocks locally too, between Uptown’s dense residential base and 5,000 plus employees, a 2013 retail gap analysis found additional $138 million in annual demand for local goods and services within a one mile radius of Uptown.
